Art Unit: 3727

1. Applicant's election without traverse of the species of Figure 3 in the reply filed on 9/19/06 is acknowledged.

2. Claims 3 and 13-23 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 9/18/06.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 8, 12, 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Marco '096 or Suzuki et al JP '823, both cited by applicant.

Both Marco and Suzuki et al teach attachment of a neck finish ring to a container neck with radial expansion of the neck, as claimed.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Taylor, Jr. '704.

To have provided the neck or ring with a knurl for retention in the manner taught by Taylor, Jr. would have been obvious.

Art Unit: 3727

5. Claims 1, 2, 4, 6, 8 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Diekhoff et al '026.

The container of Diekhoff et al is provided with a finish sleeve with the neck expanded to curl over the sleeve at 144, for example. Note members 128 to prevent the sleeve from turning on the neck.

6. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the reference as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Jesevich et al '058.

To have used a curling anvil to form the curl on the container of Diekhoff et al would have been obvious in view of such teaching by Jesevich et al.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents show other container necks.
